Frequently Asked Questions

Does the Ramada Duncan provide decorations?

Ramada Duncan does not provide decorations. They do provide table linens, napkins and all tableware. You are welcome to bring in centerpieces, balloons, tulle, fabric and any other décor to dress up the room to meet your wedding style. We ask that any wall hangings are put up with sticky putty or painter's tape, not with pins or nails. We can assist you in renting decorations and can assist with centerpieces if needed, just ask!

Can I bring my own cake?

Yes! Please do bring in your professionally baked cake.

Can we bring our own liquor?

At this time any liquor consumed in the banquet rooms must be purchased and served by the Ramada Duncan.

When can we set up?

You are welcome to set-up the morning of your wedding. Should you wish to set up the night before, the room may be available at an additional charge.

Can we have candles?

You may have candles as part of your décor. The flame of the candle must be a minimum of 1 inch below the rim of the candle holder.

What about take-down?

At the end of the night our banquets team will take down and package up all of your décor and have it ready for you to pick up the next morning. Leave it to us!

What is a SOCAN fee & Re:Sound?

SOCAN is the Society of Composers, Authors and Music Publishers of Canada. They collect a copyright licensing fee on behalf of the original artist(s). Re:Sound is the Canadian not-for-profit music licensing company dedicated to obtaining fair compensation for artists and record companies for their performance rights. On behalf of the SOCAN members, representing thousands of artists and record companies, Re:Sound licenses recorded music for public performance, broadcast and new media. The Ramada Duncan is legally required to charge the SOCAN and Re:Sound royalty fees at any event where music is being played.
